

Outsourcing Social Media Services

If you didn't already know, plenty of websites and people sell social media boosting services. For example, people sell Facebook likes, Twitter followers, Instagram followers, and more. People and businesses purchase these for personal use, as well as to give themselves a better company image.

We are going to outsource work for ourselves to turn a profit. We will be reselling social media services, from providers (I'll teach you everything) to earn ourselves money.

Our method will require a Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, any social media account that has a decent following. For Facebook, you can use your personal one as long as you have a decent of friends you know in real life. Twitter and Instagram accounts with a large amount of followers can work as well.

Basically, we will be selling social media services to our friends or to people we know through social media networks. Let me show you.

Method 1 – Outsourcing Social Media Services

The first thing to do is find a verified and reputable social media seller that we can buy from. There are two websites I'd recommend using to find a seller, and those are HackForums and Fiverr.

HackForums is a great place to buy social media services as, not only will you be able to find cheap prices, but most shops are very highly vouched and trusted. You will not have to worry about being scammed if you do your research.

Another website you can use is Fiverr. If you haven't already heard of it, Fiverr is a website where you can buy services of a wide variety for only $5.

Simply type into the search box a social media service. Something like "Twitter Followers" or "Instagram Followers" and you'll find dozens of results. I recommend HF over this as Fiverr does not always have the best prices.

Now, I will teach you where you can sell these services!

The first place is on Facebook. I'm sure tons of your friends would be interested in social media services for Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, etc. Heck, look at this, only took two minutes of work!

You can collect cash, or also PayPal or even Bitcoin for your services, depending on how tech savvy your friends are. Simply send your friends list a mass message saying something like, "Selling Instagram followers, Facebook likes, Twitter retweets (or anything else) for cheap :D"

If you don't want to do it with your friends, just advertise on facebook/instagram etc. to random guys or create a website where u sell it and advertise your website.

Also if you don't have any friends that would be interested in this service. You can create a twitter page labeled along the lines "Social media services." Your next step is to find a page where the person runs a profile based on a same thing.

Now you will follow everyone that follows that twitter account you picked. You can also find a bot to automatically do it for you but doing it yourself is easy still. Now you will just wait until people direct message you wanting to buy your service. Make sure you list that you sell followers on your account, leave a way of contact like Email or Skype, and post pictures of your prices.
